

Rights and Reproductions Policy

Introduction

The National Cowgirl Museum and Hall of Fame provides images of and reproductive rights to artifacts and photographs in the Museum's permanent collection. Requests include personal use, research, publications, and non-printed media use (videos, CD-ROMs, websites, etc.).

Copyright Restrictions

Copyright restrictions on many photographs prohibit their being made available without prior written permission from the copyright holder.

The National Cowgirl Museum and Hall of Fame will make every effort to inform applicants of copyrights and other restrictions that may apply to the photographs being reproduced. However, it cannot warrant that all photographic materials furnished may be freely reproduced in the absence of such notification. Institutions or individuals may claim ownership and control of copyright or reproduction rights of certain photographs.

It is the responsibility of those intending to publish photographic materials furnished by the National Cowgirl Museum and Hall of Fame to ascertain what claims there may be and to assume the responsibility of compliance with pertinent copyright restrictions.

Payment is required upon receipt of invoice. All payments must be in U.S. dollars written on a U.S. bank. Photographic materials will be sent upon receipt of payment. The National Cowgirl Museum and Hall of Fame will accept the following methods of payment:
